Indexed historical performance

Fund manager's report

There was increased volatility in the listed real estate markets in November as was the case in the previous two months.

Real estate companies, almost exclusively commercial (REAL index), lost 4.04% over the period. Whereas real estate funds, which are predominantly residential (SWIIT index), gained 0.76%. This represents an almost opposite scenario to October.

Since 1 August, the SXI Real Estate TR (SREAL) benchmark index has lost more than 4.8%, wiping out most of its annual performance.

This drop in premiums is due partly to fears of a rise in interest rates, but also to a resurgence in the COVID-19 epidemic.

Against this background, the Synchrony fund lost approximately 0.6% and ended with a YTD performance equivalent to its benchmark.
